MANY PARTY LEADERS ATTEND DINNER-RALLY

Crowd Sets New Record For Political Dinners In Lawrence County

At the largest dinner meeting any political party has ever held in New Castle, Attorney General James H. Duff, Republican candidate for governor, addressed a crowd of 1,350 or more in the Cathedral Monday evening, Aug.
5.

Stressing the work which has to be done by members of the party in order to win in November, Mr. Duff stated that the election of Republican congressmen and the election of senators like Governor Martin, would make it possible to elect a Republican president in 1948.

"No Faith"

"We must get away from government which has no faith in the American way of life," he declared.
The dinner at which Mr. Duff and other prominent Republican leaders spoke was sponsored by the Republican County Committee under the chairmanship of Roger W. Rowland.
Frank W. Hill was general chairman of the meeting.

Large bouquets were on all of the tables, and the stage was decorated with patriotic colors. Those seated at the speakers table were: Mr. and Mrs. Duff; Frank Hill; Mr. and Mrs.
Rowland; Gene Schweinberg, senior vice commander of the American Legion; Judge John G. Lamoree; Mason
Orlitt, national committeeman; Mrs.
Roy A. Long, vice chairman of the Lawrence County Committee; Congressman Louis E. Graham; James C. Brice, candidate for state assemblyman; Judge W. Walter Braham; Ray E. Snook, secretary of highways; Rev. J. A. Fetzner; Rev.
Francis McCarter; W. D. Walton, state committeeman for this county.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Just 20 years ago, the forerunner of the present day "talkie" or sound picture made its appearance on the screens of the motion pictures of the nation. The modern sound picture is a far cry from the old silent films that many of us, when kids, used to pay a lowly dime to get into
to see.

The city painting crew was quite active early this morning in the downtown section of the city, painting more lines on the streets, dividing them off into lanes, to facilitate the movement of traffic.

Those engaged in the business of moving lawns about the city are getting more rest these days, Pa
New observes. Earlier in the year, when the rains were heavier, the movers hardly get one lawn moved, and it was time to return and remove it.

With numerous conventions scheduled for the city in the fall, Pa
New learns that the committees who are in charge of lodging are having quite a difficult time in securing sufficient rooms for the guests who desire to attend the meetings. Many home will have to be opened up to keep up the record of New Castle as being a hospitable city.

Seek Extension Of UNRRA Relief

Several Eastern European Countries Want Relief
Beyond December

GENEVA, Aug. 6.—(INS)—Several eastern European nations were expected to apply to the fifth UNRRA council convention today for extension of relief activity beyond its scheduled termination at the end of this year.

The request for extension will probably come from Czechoslovakia, at least Poland and Yugoslavia are known to favor continuation of the agency.

Would Terminate Relief
They will face an announced U. S. inclination to close out UNRRA work in Europe in December and in the Far East three months later.
Many nations believe an agency of the United Nations should be responsible for relief.

Almost 200 delegates, representing 43 member nations, are meeting in the assembly hall once used by the league of nations. Florentino H. La-Guardia, director-general, is presiding over the sessions.

Scar-Faced General Says S.S. Troops Were Clean Fighters

But He Flushes As Evidence Of Killing, Burning, Looting
Is Read In Court

NUERNBERG, Aug. 6.—(INS)— Heinrich Himmler, already dead, and "a small circle around him" were accused again today by a high-ranking SS general for all the murders and extermination campaigns of the Gestapo and its allied Nazi organizations.

Paul Hauser, a scar-faced SS general, claimed that most members of the SS were clean-fighting, front-line soldiers and that "Him-mler was completely alien to the spirit of the SS troops."

He said the Gestapo chieftain, who swallowed poison shortly after his arrest by the Allies, had little influence during the war upon the SS. Hauser declared that his organization did not know about the atrocities committed in occupied countries.

However, Hauser flushed and then his scarred features tightened while an assistant British prosecutor, Elwyn Jones, introduced documents to the international military tribunal outlining the SS adventures in slaying, burning and looting Poles, Yugoslavs and Russians.

Jones drew his evidence almost entirely from German sources.

Martin Announces Salary Increases

HARRISBURG, Aug. 6.—(INS)—
Cost of living salary increases ranging from five to 15 per cent for state employees were announced today by Gov. Edward Martin.

He estimated the cost would range between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 an-

Dominican Republic Heav- iest Sufferer In Carib- bean Earthquake

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic, Aug. 6.—(INS)—Official and private relief agencies in the eastern Caribbean rushed assistance today to victims of a series of earthquakes and a virtual tidal wave.

There was no complete tally of casualties, but several persons were reported killed and a number more injured by toppling roofs and walls.
The Dominican Republic suffered greatest damage from the shocks.
At Santiago de los Caballeros one person was killed as warehouses, a church and a racetrack were destroyed.

Church Wrecked

The docks at the northern port of Puerto Plata were washed away and at Moca a Catholic church and a government building were wrecked.

The Dominican capital of Ciudad Trujillo was damaged slightly with cracks appearing in many of its structures. The most violent quake occurred while the capital, oldest city in the Western Hemisphere, was celebrating the 450th anniversary of its founding by a brother of Christopher Columbus.

The towns of Matanzas and San Francisco de Macoris also reported damage.

Puerto Rico was shaken by the tremor, but only damage there resulted from the heavier waves.
Cuba and the Virgin Islands felt the earthquake but said it had little effect.

Bus Skids—38 Hurt At Chicago Beach

Wet Pavement Responsible For Bus Plunging Down
Six Foot Embankment

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—(INS)— Thirty-eight persons were reported recovering today from injuries suffered when a Greyhound bus skidded on wet pavement, plunged down a six-foot embankment and overturned on a Jackson Park Beach in Chicago.

Neat panic broke out among the 40 passengers trapped in the vehicle last night. They feared the outbreak of fire when gasoline spilled from the fuel tank and drenched the bus.

Swimmers at the beach broke windows of the bus and helped the injured climb out.

Brakes Locked
Ralph Rodgers, 41, of Maumee, O., driver of the bus which was coming into Chicago from New York City, told police the brakes "locked" when he attempted to stop. He blamed a light rain for causing the bus to skid.

Rodgers was treated for injuries

Veterans' Council Plans 'V-J' Drive For GI Employment

As part of a program to find or create job openings for veterans, the veterans' advisory council voted Monday afternoon to sponsor a V-J week campaign for G. I. employment.

During this time, employers will be asked to make every effort to hire ex-servicemen who now are subsisting on compensation. At its meeting in the Coral room of the Castleton hotel, the council also voted to publicize its open position as an advisory center open to servicemen who are not certain what agency they should go to or who wish to discuss their problems or plans with persons skilled in the particular field in which they are interested.

Executive Secretary Frank T.
Sargeant reported at the meeting that in the period from June 10 to July 10, 268 servicemen had either telephone or had come into the advisory center on the second floor of city hall. In the July 10 to August 5, the center had 218 contacts.

Dr. John Archer told International

CAMBRIDGE, Eng. Aug. 6.—(INS)—
An appeal to all nations to "study their attitude" with a view to reducing world tension was voiced today by John Foster Dulles, chairman of the International Church Conference meeting in Cambridge.

The American delegate said:
"I would like to see the United States abandon the idea of tar-nishing bases which threaten others."
"Any attempt to secure geographic security in this atomic age is unrealistic and creates friction with other nations."

RESCUE EFFORTS PROVE FUTILE

Henry J. Hamilton, Jr., aged 10 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J.
Hamilton of 117 Willard avenue, was drowned under tragic circumstances at the Fred L. Reitz Y. M. C. A. camp Monday evening. His death was the first mishap which has occurred at the camp in its 15-year history of camping, and has cast a pall of gloom over the camp.

Shock Thought Possible
According to the report of Coroner
T. F. Nugent, which was given him by William A. Winter, camp director, the youth, along with the other boys at the camp had entered the water for a brief swim just prior to the evening meal. This was at 6:10 p. m. daylight time, the camp operating under eastern standard time. It is believed that the boy who had been playing hard might have suffered a shock which affected his heart when the cold water came in contact with his body, and Strikebound Plant Heavily Guarded

CONNEERSVILLE, Ind. Aug. 6.— (INS)—State militia and police today guarded the strikebound factories of the Rex Manufacturing Co., where 32 CIO pickets were arrested.

At least 250 state guardsmen and 28 state police awaited the expected arrival of 1,000 additional CIO pickets whose leaders last night promised peaceful picketing.

However, state armed forces had machine guns, revolvers and tear gas bombs ready and set up wooden sawhorses to block streets leading to the gates of the two plants, which manufacture refrigerator cabinets.

Union leaders accused Indiana Gov. Ralph F. Gates of being the first state executive to call out the militia on a labor dispute since the start of World War II.

Truman Prestige At Stake Today In Missouri Vote

Interest Centers In Fight Against Congressman
Slaughter's Candidacy

PRESIDENT WANTS SLAUGHTER LICKED

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. Aug. 6.
—(INS)—The political prestige of President Truman was tested today in his home state of Missouri.
Voters went to the polls in a primary election to nominate Democratic and Republican candidates for U. S. Senator, Congress, and various state, county and city offices.

Chief interest was centered on the Fifth Congressional district where Rep. Roger C. Slaughter (D.) of Kansas City, sought renomination in the face of opposition from President Truman.

Mr. Truman told a recent news conference that he opposed Slaughter because the congressman would not support many administration recommendations.

Rules Member
Slaughter is a member of the House Rules committee.

The Chief Executive is supporting Enos Axtell of Hickman Hills,

Japanese government had on its hands today a problem which has baggage.

General MacArthur's headquar-ment to find the baggage which belonged to a group of Allied general who were captured during the war and lost their belongings while in custody.

Archer said it was impossible to tell how when May will be able to reach a decision on this "in a couple

Terrorists Fail In Murder Plan

Tension In Holy Land Rises
As Extremists Threaten To Land Immigrants

JERUSALEM, Aug. 6.—(INS)—
The Palestine government said today that the Jewish Stern gang attempted unsuccessfully to kill two senior British officers in Jerusalem as tension in the Holy Land began climbing again.

The British said barking dogs aroused suspicion and foiled the attempt, made last night.
The announcement came while British troops were steaming to the port of Haifa. They were ordered to reinforce garrisons there as a result of threats by Jewish Extrem-

2,500 uncertified immigrants now aboard five small vessels in the PARIS, Aug. 6.—U. S.

Secretary of State Byrnes charged today that Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov has attempted for a year to limit small power participation in the writing of peace treaties.

Byrnes spoke angrily of Molotov's alleged insistence for Big Four control over virtually every move of the conference but his violent words seemed to have little immediate effect upon the Soviet minister.

Reiterates Stand
Byrnes had already concluded his statement when Molotov arose and proceeded calmly to reiterate his earlier stand that the Big Four council of foreign ministers should draft the procedure and recommendations for the general peace conference.

An American source explained that Byrnes launched his outspoken attack because "there have been so many insinuations tossed our way by Molotov."

two-thirds of the nations would

V. E. Loveland of the Highway Department; and Robert Kent, candidate for assembly from Crawford county.

Guests filled both the large dining hall and the ball room, and the enthusiastic spirit of the crowd was encouraging to the committeemen and to the candidates. During the dinner and before the program, Bill Earl played a wide variety of piano selections, and group singing was led by L. F. Hemingway.

Soloists Please As the main entertainment of the evening, preceding the introduction of the speakers, Miss Florence Berg, attractive blonde soprano from Pittsburgh, and Howard Prior, a Pittsburgh tenor, sang favorite numbers from light opera. They were accompanied by Lambing Smith.

In his speech, Attorney General Duff asserted that if those in power would allow the natural regenerative forces of the country, those forces would bring about their own solution to the problems in which we now find ourselves.

Declaring that something is seriously wrong, Mr. Duff said that those responsible were not satisfied to work out reconversion on the basis of American experience but wanted to work it out on the basis of bureaucracy.

pointed out that the population of Pennsylvania has not been keeping up with the population growth of other parts of the country recently, that industry is being taken out of Pennsylvania into the West and the South, and that Pennsylvania has slipped from its position of second state in the Union to that of fourth.

"You people have an example of that here in the aluminum plant, and you will see more of it if action in Washington does not stop siphoning the main industries of the state to other parts of the country," Mr. Duff told the audience.

His PAC In an accusation that the Democratic party was willing to let itself be controlled by the CIO-PAC, Mr. Duff charged that the four state-wide Democratic candidates in Pennsylvania have signed papers allowing the treasurer of the PAC to act as their fiscal agent for the campaign.

"The supreme issue of this campaign is whether or not you want these people to take over," the candidate continued. "As for the Republican party, what it needs is a policy, not of criticism, but of aggressive action!"

Frank Hill introduced Roger W. Rowland as the toastmaster of the evening. Before the guests were introduced, Mr. Rowland was presented with a desk set by the committee, in appreciation of his work as chairman for the past 10 years.

First of the speakers was Louis E. Graham, Republican candidate for Congress from this district. Mr. Graham spoke of the great debt with which the nation is burdened, and asked the party members to elect a Republican House of Representatives. He further stated that Congress needed the backing of a strong state administration such as Mr. Duff would offer.

Best Ever Ray F. Smock, secretary of highways and chairman of the Crawford county committee, told the assembly that the event was the best political meeting which he had ever attended, while Mr. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman, commented on the large number of young people who were present. Mason Owlett, national committeeman from Pennsylvania, again spoke of the large national debt.

The attorney general was introduced by Gene Schweinsberg, young ex-G.I. who stated that he and his friends want a strong America, and feel that they should have a "say" in the government.

Rev. Fr. Francis McCarter made the invocation preceding the dinner, and Rev. John A. Feizer of New Wilmington pronounced the benediction. Howard Price led the entire group in the singing of "God Bless America" at the conclusion of the program.

SALVAGED SHIP NEARING PORT

American Farmer—a tempest of legal technicalities called "unprecedented" by maritime experts.

A treasury solicitor has already sent to the U. S. Lines, owners of the Farmer, a salvage claim in behalf of the master and crew of the Elizabeth, whose crewmen were "chased off" the stricken vessel by men from the U. S. vessel American Ranger.

The U. S. Lines official said that as soon as the vessel reaches Baltimore, steps will be taken to unload its cargo. He said:

"What is too valuable to be allowed to rot while an inquiry is going on. If an inquiry is instituted, legal proceedings may take months." Radio reports from the British tug Elizabeth said her captain has on the spot photographs to prove his ship is entitled to cash awards for placing the first crew aboard the Farmer after it was abandoned following a collision.

Camera Record A cameraman was said to have recorded the Elizabeth's salvage efforts after the tug reached the four and one-half million dollar prize ahead of other vessels in a 120-mile race.

Capt. E. Millers, skipper of the Elizabeth, charged seamen from the U. S. ship American Ranger used force to board the Farmer after his men had taken the stricken craft under tow "nicely."

British shipping circles protested actions of the Ranger's crew as "high-handed", but were mollified somewhat when an official of the U. S. Lines explained the Americans severed a tow line to the Elizabeth because they thought the tug was too small for the job.

It is generally conceded that since the Elizabeth placed crewmen aboard the abandoned vessel before other rescue ships arrived, the British seamen will have first call on salvage money.

But experts pointed out that maritime law does not automatically exclude other vessels helping in salvage work from sharing the reward.

Seek Solution Political circles question whether Britain is ready to give up her Palestine mandate, but predicted the first step to such a decision might be a move to reach trustee agreements with other nations.

Today's meeting was expected to seek some temporary solution for Palestine until a permanent one can be worked out. It is expected that Foreign Secretary Bevin will, when he returns to Paris, contact the other powers on any trustee proposal that might be placed before the United Nations in September.

British plans for an Arab-Jewish conference on Palestine received a setback yesterday when the executive committee of the Jewish agency in Paris rejected the scheme "as a basis for discussion."

Probing Crash Of Globemaster

Giant Douglas C-47 Plane Being Tested, Four In Crew Parachute To Safety

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—(INS)—An investigation into the crash of a Douglas C-74 army Globemaster was opened today jointly by the army and Douglas.

The giant plane, largest now used by the army, crashed yesterday in a field near suburban Torrance.

The four crew members, parachuted to safety. They were test pilot Russel K. Thaw, co-pilot George Jansen, flight engineer Chris Nielsen and observer H. H. Lane, all Douglas employees.

Thaw told Deputy Sheriff Ira Teel that "my wing fell off." J. W. O'Sullivan, an eyewitness, said that transport nosed into a dive from low altitude.

Slices Power Line In its earthward plunge the 125-passenger plane sliced through the Bureau of Power & Light's 110,000-volt power line leading to Los Angeles harbor, burst into a ball of orange flame, poured into the earth and disintegrated.

Thaw was putting the four-engine craft through final dive tests before turning it over to the army. One of the motors ripped through the top of a 1,600,000 barrel oil storage tank and was submerged in 30 feet of oil.

The wreckage flashed into flame and burned but the fire did not spread to the oil. The crash left the field looking like a shell-pocked battlefield.

Thaw, famed racing and test pilot, used the same plane last week to set a world lifting record of 172,000 pounds.

The Globemaster had a wingspread of 173 feet, was 124 feet long and its four engines developed a total of 12,000 horsepower.

The lightning bolt touched off the gasoline, causing five explosions aboard the vessel. Fed by five million gallons of gasoline, the ship was turned into a blazing inferno.

production and distribution of textiles would proceed at a good pace" after higher prices were approved. In ordering the textile price boost, OPA said that as a result cotton clothing prices would shoot up six to eight per cent and household linens such as bed sheets and towels would jump 17 per cent.

Supplies Rothchild expressed belief however, that increased production eventually would drive prices of cotton apparel down. He said:

"While this textile boost may mean an increase in retail prices of shirts, shorts pajamas and handkerchiefs, it may provide the production which would create competition and eventually bring prices down."

"If we start rolling in production of these items, the production itself will act as a brake on prices."

Rothchild added: "In 30 to 45 days, this OPA order ought to result in an improved retail supply of shirts and other cotton garments."

This OPA action will open the way for the increased production which we all have been shouting for."

MAY STILL TOO ILL TO GIVE TESTIMONY

May was preparing to testify July 26 under subpoena when he was stricken with a heart attack on the eve of his appearance. His Washington physician, Dr. Henry M. Lowden, then informed the committee that May "might" be ready next Friday. Last week, however, May left Washington for his home in Prestonsburg.

Maybe in a Month The physician said there was a "slight possibility" that May might be able to testify in about a month, but that this was only a conjecture on his part now as he had been able to observe May for only a few days as yet. Archer said the swelling in May's legs was decreasing and that the 71-year-old congressman wanted Saturday, a few days after he arrived, to leave his bed and sit up in a chair, but was overruled.

Reds Nix Proposal Of Gen. DeGaulle

PARIS, Aug. 6.—(INS)—The Communist part of France is opposed to Gen. Charles DeGaulle's proposal for a western European entente of nations as a counterweight to the United States and the Soviet Union.

Maurice Thorez, chief of the French Communists, disputed DeGaulle's statement without mentioning him by name. Thorez said: "Certain persons represent the world as being divided into two antagonistic blocs—the United States and the Soviet Union. French security cannot be founded on the formation of antagonistic blocs but on a close entente and sincere collaboration among all peoples, great and small."

Racketeers Steal Relief Stockpile

LONDON, Aug. 6.—(INS)—The London Evening Standard reported Monday that racketeers at Trieste were plundering UNRRA's stockpile of food, clothing and medical supplies in the "biggest take-off of all time."

The Dispatch said the thieves were selling the stolen goods at "sky-high prices" in the black market.

UNRRA Director-General F. H. LaGuardia previously had declared that the agency's relief supplies were feeding the black market at Trieste. Lt. Gen. Sir William Morrison, British commander in the Mediterranean area, described LaGuardia's charges as unfounded.

Report 2,287 On Relief Rolls In Lawrence County

State Figures Show 25,100 Cases Receiving Assistance As Of Week Ending July 27

During the week ending July 27, 2,287 persons in this county were receiving public assistance, with the state-wide figures totaling 25,100 cases.

The state total is equivalent to six per cent of the 404,000 cases dependent on either general assistance or work relief in August, 1939, just prior to the outbreak of World War II, and to 18 per cent of the 137,000 dependent on the same programs in the month of Pearl Harbor after two years of step-up in national defense and lend-lease programs. Moreover, the total is only 6,600 above the all-time low of 18,500 cases reached in August of 1945.

For the county the following breakdown of the cases is given: Persons receiving general assistance, 334; old-age assistance, 981; dependent children on the rolls, 919; and blind persons receiving pensions, 133.

AROUND CITY HALL

City of New Castle will be required to pay about $1,100 as its share of the P.R.R. crossing at Grove and Neal street, according to an order of the Public Utilities Commission. City council Monday authorized Parks Director Joseph D. Alexander to put a bulldozer and operative to work to level off the bed of Cascade Park lake. Meanwhile, plans for repairing the break in the dam have not yet been ok'd by state officials at Harrisburg.

North Jefferson street and Wilmington avenue have been declared through streets by city ordinance. Stop signs will be erected at intersecting thoroughfares. Forty dogs were killed by the dog-catcher during July.

City police department receipts for July amounted to $852.78. City council is talking of buying a money counter for the use of the finance department to toll the nickels and pennies received from the more than 400 multiple-coin meters in the uptown district.

Walter Wilson was appointed by council as an assistant to the dog catcher today. There is much to be done with a campaign against cats and dogs under way, the police chief reported.

Captain of police and Mrs. Willis McMullen have returned from a vacation spent along the coast of Virginia and in Philadelphia.

Sixteeners Will Gather At Mercer

Annual Reunion Of Former Residents Of Mercer Soldiers Orphan Home To Take Place

MERCER, Aug. 6.—One of the "first" groups of Mercersites will again greet each other and reminisce in the "good old days" when the Sixteeners association of the Mercer Soldiers Orphan Home convenes on Tuesday, August 13, for a three-day party.

Headquarters will be in the Humes hotel where the group has gathered since its founding.

The affair will open with the "First Nighters" in the hotel parlors, an informal get-together by members.

Wednesday morning the reunion will take on a business-like atmosphere as all members formally register before visiting in the afternoon the site of their former home, now occupied by buildings of the Mercer sanitarium.

Wednesday evening the annual open meeting will be held in the assembly room of the court house, featuring music, recitations and other well-performed offerings by the Sixteeners and their talented children and grandchildren.

At 10:30 a. m. Thursday the business meeting will be conducted in the assembly room of the court house, when officers will be elected for the next year. At the close of the meet, the Sixteeners will hold their farewell picnic dinner.

Knitting Mill Employees Await Back Pay Checks

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 6.—(INS)—More than 600 former and present employees of the Berkshire Knitting Mills, of Reading, Pa., today looked forward to their share of $500,000 in back pay.

Judge Herbert F. Goodrich, of the Third U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia, signed a decree approving the distribution of the money in settlement of a strike at the plant in 1936.

The National Labor Relations board had ordered the company to reinstate upwards of 1,000 strikers and compensate them for "lost pay," and this was upheld by the U. S. Supreme Court.

The "lost pay" represents the difference between what the strikers received between the time of the settlement of the strike and Jan. 27, 1944, when the federal court ruled that the firm had engaged in unfair labor practices.

The employees will receive checks varying from $33.78 to $3,949.14.

MRS. VANDERBILT SEEKS ISSUANCE OF CORPORATION STOCK

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 6.—(INS)—A registration statement by the Gloria Vanderbilt Corp. was on file today with the Securities and Exchange commission in Philadelphia.

The corporation was founded by Mrs. Vanderbilt after her daughter, Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt Stokowski, cut off her $21,000 annual allowance.

Mrs. Vanderbilt, in the statement, seeks SEC authorization for issuance of 300,000 shares of $1 par common stock. The proceeds will be used to remodel, equip and promote her cosmetic manufacturing firm, recently opened in New York City.

According to educators in the Middle Ages, the "Seven Liberal Arts" were grammar, dialectics, rhetoric, music, arithmetic, geometry, and astronomy.

BE CONSERVATIVE IN LIMITED WARDROBE

When you invest your hard-earned money in a season's wardrobe, make your selections carefully to fit your purse as well as your own particular social life.

If your funds are limited, you must forego the urge to follow extreme fashion trends and concentrate on clothes with a more conservative angle. For instance, if you must wear the same hat seven days a week, select one that will not cause your friends to think: "What! That hat again."

Unless your clothes schedule includes numerous changes, avoid dresses that are made conspicuous by stripes, other decided contrasts, vivid colors, brilliant shades, fads and extreme lines.

Two good, basic black dresses, the general appearance of which you might camouflage with changes of belts, costume jewelry and any number of other little tricks to make one dress look like two of three, are always a good buy.

A girl who has passed my house for weeks has worn every day a brightly-colored flowered hat—awfully cute but oh so monotonous. It was interesting for a few times since it caught your eye. Being evidently her only hat, it should be conservative. These days, little non-musical headpieces should be for occasional wear and not constant wear.

Likewise, avoid loud plaids in your suit selection. If you are in the one-suit category. Make it a solid color—medium gray is always good with which you may wear matching gray, brown, or black accessories and a wide variety of blouse colors.

I often wonder why the ne-winter-coat woman so often makes her selection among the burgundies, bright blues, vivid purples and bright greens. Again, I say, these are most attractive when seen occasionally on a woman of many coats, but worn day after day for months to every occasion from business to informal social affairs, they scream their approach: "Here I am again!"

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers including stamped, self-addressed envelopes. Tomorrow—Dressing Up Porch Chairs.

Civil War Seen Possible As Polish Tension Grows

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of five articles describing the dangerous internal conditions in Poland as a result of the referendum and the recent increase in anti-semitism.)

By JAMES E. BROWN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WARSAW, Aug. 6.—With over 100,000 armed men either gone underground in the towns and cities or hiding in the forests, Poland today is ripe for disturbances which could lead to civil war.

I have talked with leaders of the government and of the opposition. They both agreed that the figure of 100,000 is roughly correct and that these men have inactive sympathizers who would swell their number in the event of an open clash.

Moderate leaders of the opposition, such as Vice-Premier Mikolajczyk, deplore the acts of violence which are taking place daily all over Poland, but they bitterly assert that the government is provoking terrorism.

Fierce Hatreds

Foreign correspondents find their chief difficulty in giving a fair assessment is the impossibility of meeting an objective or neutral Pole. The hatreds, mainly ideological, are fierce and implacable, often murderous—"those who are not with us are against us."

The purpose of these articles is to present briefly the arguments on both sides. The opinions expressed are those given me in interviews by Prime Minister Osobka-Morawski, Vice-Premier Mikolajczyk and Prime Minister Cardinal Augustus Hlond.

There are many other articulate and relatively authoritative spokesmen, but the above represent the three largest blocs.

Prime Minister Osobka-Morawski told International News Service, first, Poland is not adopting a Soviet form of national economy, and, secondly, although their foreign policy is primarily based on friendship with Russia, the Poles would like to become a bridge between the east and west.

He asserted Poland is historically fitted for this task. Enlarging his views on the national economic structure, he said their plans were unique and purely Polish. They were breaking up the big estates and dividing them among the peasants, but he pointed out there were no collective farms in Poland and none were planned.

Furthermore, he said, peasants could sell their goods on the free market. They were receiving much assistance in equipment and seeds from UNRRA in getting started.

Plan Is Secret

He refused to elaborate government plans concerning rumored intentions to break up the big church properties, but this will be discussed in later articles. Parenthetically, the government has not yet taken any action of this nature against the church.

Osobka-Morawski was most enthusiastic in discussing the so-called "recovered territories"—or the industrial areas of Germany added to Poland as compensation for what Russia took from them in the east.

He said Poland before the war had an unbalanced primarily agricultural economy which did not yield sufficient products for them to buy necessary manufactured goods from abroad. Now he said, they had both the farms and the factories, and consequently the means of eventually becoming one of the most stable small countries in Europe.

Returning to politics, the prime minister denied the commonly-heard accusation that the Russians control key positions in both the army and secret police. The latter is called by its initials, UB. He said:

"The Soviets are interested only in maintaining their lines of communications from Germany to Russia."

Attacks Reactionaries

He bitterly charged Mikolajczyk with condoning the activities of reactionaries and terrorists who, he said, have attached themselves to the Polish peasant party.

"Only 15 per cent of Mikolajczyk's votes in the referendum came from moderates. The rest came from reactionaries."

The prime minister asserted 15,000 supporters of the government have been murdered by the underground during the past year. He added:

"Mikolajczyk is no friend of the Jews, but it would be necessary to look into his heart in order to know whether he is anti-semitic. A great part of the Catholic clergy is reactionary. The lower ranks are behaving well, but the trouble comes from the top, and priests have to take orders."

EVERYTHING'S OKAY NOW.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Aug. 6.—(INS)—It looked discouraging for a while but the Lester Dehns of Oshkosh have their long awaited baby girl today.

Late Sunday night a baby boy arrived for Mrs. Dehn, the third son in the family. Twenty minutes later she gave birth to another baby boy.

Ten minutes after that, a baby girl was born, the last of a set of triplets.

DDT CONTROLS FLIES

Since he sprayed his barn and his cows with DDT, W. N. Walker of Little Beaver Township, has not been troubled with flies. One thorough treatment in the barn and two applications on the cows have practically eliminated flies until August first.

"On cool mornings we used to find the posts and floor joists almost black with flies," said Mr. Walker. "Now we see a fly only occasionally."

Mr. Walker used a stock solution containing 25% DDT. This, when diluted according to the manufacturer's directions was sprayed on the ceiling and walls of the barn. The cows were sprayed with the same material, using enough to dampen the hair over their bodies.

Wettable powder containing 50% DDT can also be used at the rate of one pound to ten gallons of water. Oil solution of DDT should never be used on animals.

Instructions for the use of DDT are available without charge at the Agricultural Extension Office, 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

Remind Managers Of Seized Mines To Abide By Laws

HARRISBURG, Aug. 6.—(INS)—Managers of seized Pennsylvania bituminous mines had reminders from the federal government today that Commonwealth mining laws must be obeyed.

The orders were issued by Vice Adm. Ben Moreell, federal coal mines administrator, after Secretary of Mines Richard Maize had asserted that lives of state bituminous miners were endangered because the government had not clarified enforcement of safety laws.

"The mining laws of Pennsylvania will prevail notwithstanding anything to the contrary which may be contained in the 'federal code,'" Capt. N. H. Colleson, deputy mines administrator, advised Maize.

Maize had explained that certain provisions of the U. S. government code for the operation of seized bituminous mines were less stringent than Pennsylvania's safety laws. The government seized the mines May 30.

Under state laws, gaseous mines must be examined by "certified officials" three hours before shifts enter the pits. The U. S. code called for a four-hour inspection, causing Maize to raise strenuous objections because of the danger of explosions.

RUSSIANS BETTER AT ENTERTAINING
FOREIGN VISITORS

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(INS)—Take it from Mme. Lydia Novokov, the Russians are better at providing accommodations for foreign diplomats and their families than we are.

Mme. Novokov, wife of Nikolai Novokov, Soviet ambassador to the United States, was flying the Atlantic today to rejoin her husband at the Paris peace conference.

But before she could get a plane seat she had spent a trying weekend and made eight trips to LaGuardia field.

The lady, known as a gracious Washington hostess, said, "If such happened in my country we would do all we could to help officials and to send the wife of a diplomat where she wanted to go."

No Tax Relief Ere '48-George.

Senate Finance Chairman Says It Is Necessary To Maintain High Level

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—(INS)—Sen. George (D) Ga., chairman of the senate finance committee, said Monday there can be no material change in the high tax rates before 1948.

George's remarks were made in support of President Truman's call for a high level of taxes during the reconversion period which he issued in a review of the budget.

The senator indicated a bill to cut taxes may be considered in the next congress but he declared:

"Real tax adjustment must wait until the calendar year 1948 before any material changes can become effective."

High Level Necessary

"During the period we are now going through it is very necessary to maintain a high revenue level. However, it is highly important for the businessman and the individual taxpayer to know in advance what the 1948-49 schedules are going to look like."

George said that the congressional joint committee on internal revenue taxation probably will survive the tax question during the congressional recess.

President Truman in his budget review opposed any lowering of taxes at this time. He demanded a continued high tax level to combat inflation.

The chief executive said the government expects to spend forty-one billion, 500 million dollars in the present fiscal year and still run in the red only one billion 900 million.

Mr. Truman proclaimed a government economy drive on all fronts and held out hope for a balanced budget by next June 30.

This Woman Knows
Her 'Double Shots'

Telephones To Weights And Measures Man And Claims Cheating Is Going On

Would your hair rise upon you if you were a woman imbiber of "double shots" for them, then discover that you were not receiving full measure? So folks, imagine the disposition of a woman who telephoned Henry Jones, sealer of weights and inspector of measures for the city and county not only Friday but again Sunday night in which she charged she was "cheated."

She told Mr. Jones that the "double shots" she bought in Ellwood City were not full measure. She didn't explain whether or not the glass was filled to the brim. But there was one thing she said of which she was certain—the "double shots" she bought were not double shots.

After explaining that liquor does not come under his jurisdiction, she replied "it ought to," explaining that he is an employee of the city and county and should examine all measures.

"Why don't you change your drinking place?" he asked.

"Oh, I'd have to walk too far," she replied.

So bartenders, if there is cheating, remember there's one woman imbiber who may call her "shots" but when they arrive she knows her "shots," single or double!

Local Teachers Attend First Conference Of Its Kind At State College

The Misses Grace McCabe, president of the New Castle branch of the Pennsylvania State Education Association, Belle Montgomery, Helen Clarke, and Emma Maxwell, all teachers in the New Castle public schools, have returned from State College, where on August 1 and 2, they attended what is planned as the first of an annual conference of local branch leaders of the P. S. E. A.

Several sessions of the workshop type were conducted in addition to two general sessions.

Miss Cathleen M. Champlin, president of the P. S. E. A., expressed the hope before the conference that a similar meeting may be held each year.

Shooting Victims Jump Gun Wielder

DETROIT, Aug. 6.—(INS)—Earl Spencer, 32, found out Monday that human beings are not exactly the best targets for a shooting gallery.

Brandishing a .38 caliber revolver, Spencer, police said, round-d up 15 passersby in a vacant lot. Coolly, he explained that he wanted to shoot somebody. He fired once, but the shot went wide of all 15 of his intended victims.

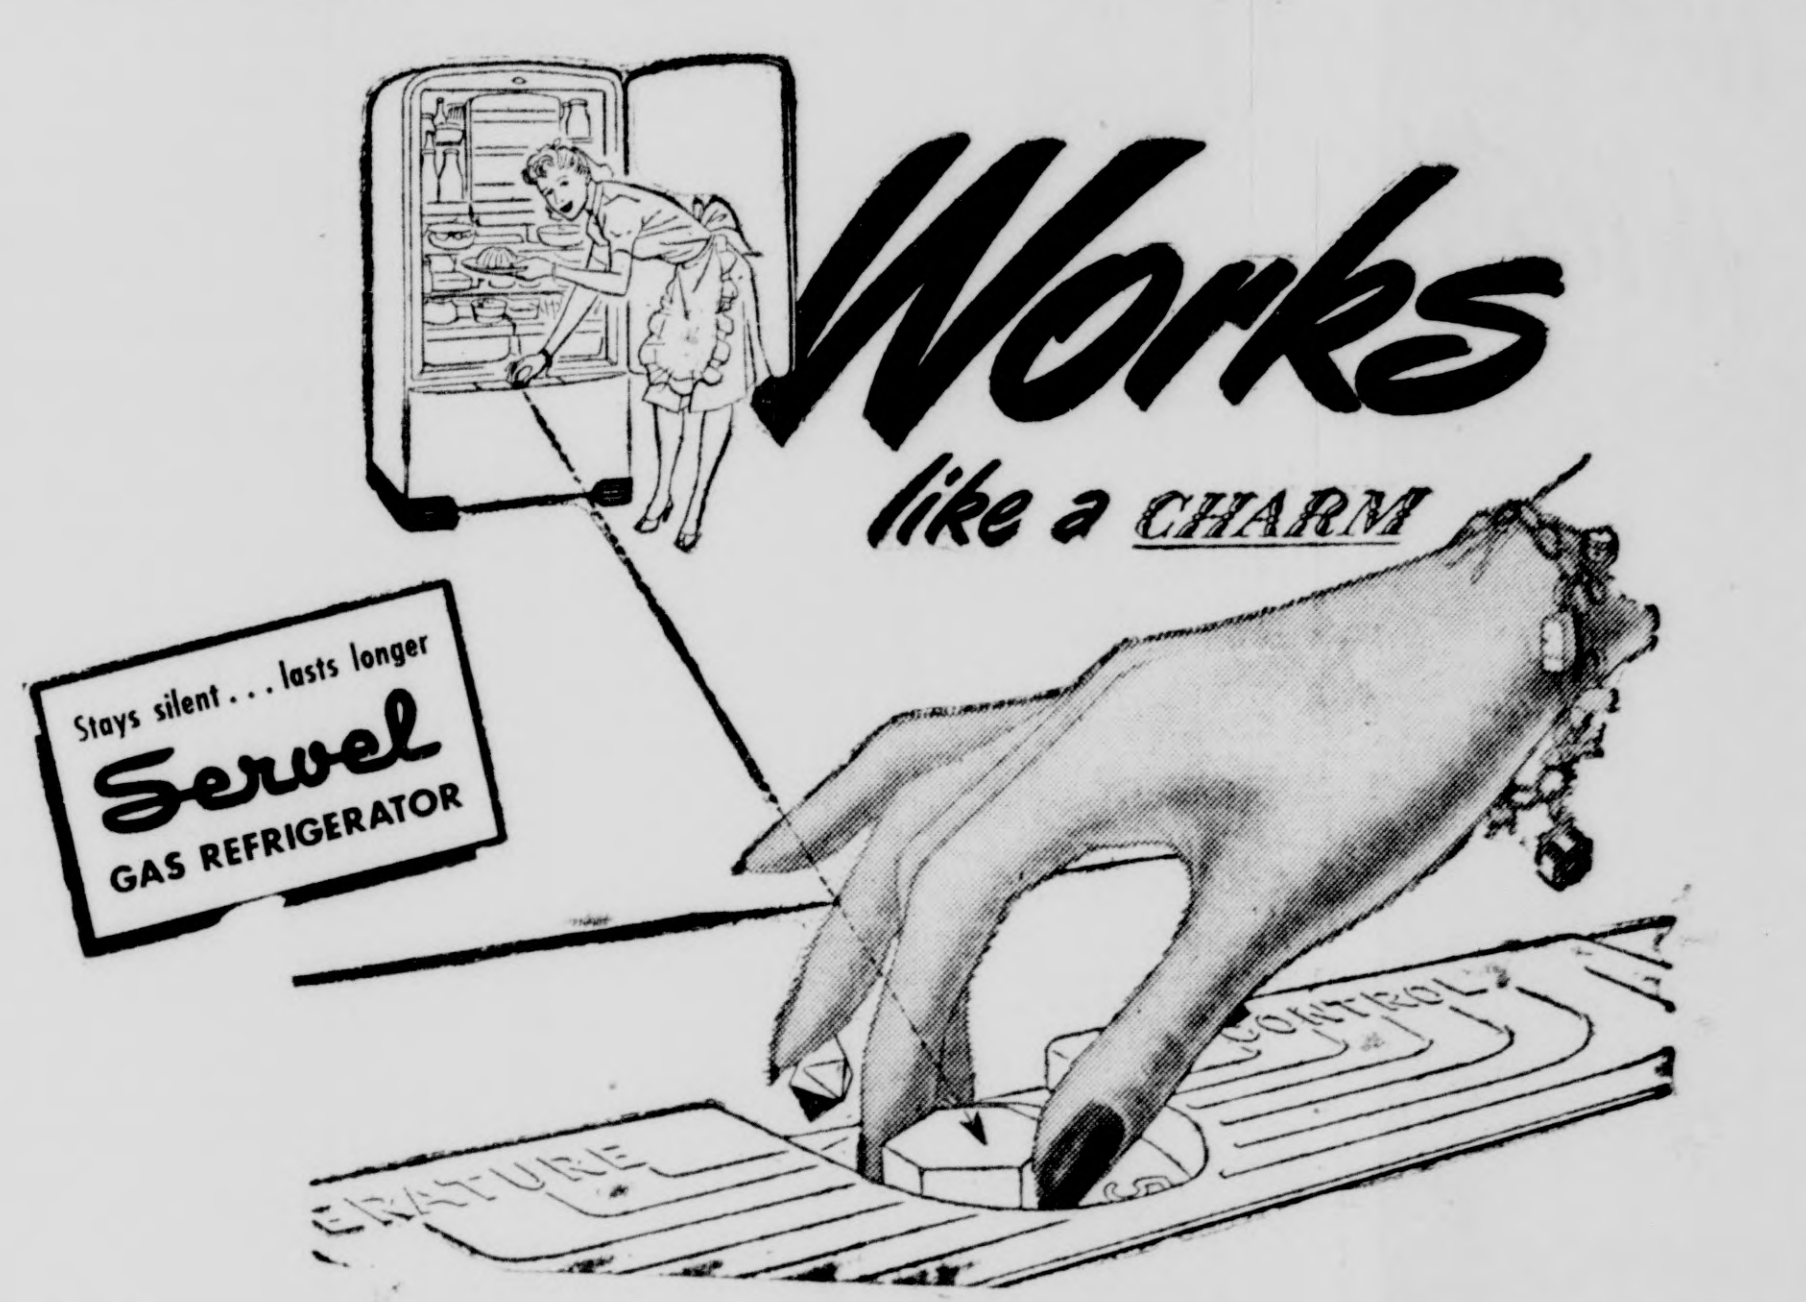

At this point, two of his targets-to-be jumped him. Police took him to Receiving Hospital as a police prisoner and he was treated for multiple scalp cuts, in addition to intoxication.

CHINESE HIERARCHY

SHANGHAI.—(INS)—With the return from Rome of the recently consecrated Cardinal Tien, first Chinese to be elevated to this high post, the Holy See has established a Catholic Hierarchy in China. The country has been divided into 20 ecclesiastical provinces, each headed by an archbishop, who will be assisted by 79 auxiliary bishops. Under them are the manifold Catholic vicariates extending from distant Kansu and Tachienlu to the southernmost areas of Kwantung. Cardinal Thomas Tien supervises all from his post Metropolitan Archbishop of Peiping.

The Silent SERVEL GAS Refrigerator

Yes—even in this age of scientific achievement—it's almost magical the way a tiny Gas flame silently does all the work in a Servel Gas Refrigerator . . . how it completely replaces all moving mechanical parts.

It's PERMANENTLY SILENT. The tiny Gas flame works silently—not just at first when the refrigerator is new, but always. No moving mechanical parts mean no distracting noises.

It's DEPENDABLE. Day after day, year after year, the tiny Gas flame provides continuous refrigeration . . .

because there are no moving parts in the freezing system to break down and interrupt the service you need every day, winter and summer.

It's ECONOMICAL. The tiny Gas flame costs only a few cents a day—but economy goes beyond operating costs. No moving parts in the freezing system to wear out—no expensive replacements to buy.

So, choose the GAS Refrigerator for all the features that count—plus beautifully styled, gleaming white cabinets.

Now Maybe You Can Find That Lost Collar Button

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—(INS)—There's good news today for Peeping Toms—if they plan to peep on the grand scale, that is.

The Technical Industrial Intelligence Division of the Commerce Department in cooperation with the Army and Navy has put on an array of infra red devices which the German army perfected during the Second World War.

The tremendous advantage of the infra red attachments to rifles, tanks, staff cars, harbor searchlights and aircraft spotting searchlights is that they permit the user to see clearly without being seen or suspected.

The Germans put infra red devices on the headlights of their tanks and cars so that they could race through dark villages at 60 miles an hour and never show a light.

"We copied our super-scope and snooterscope from such captured material,"

The exhibit indicates that the Germans were thoroughly aware of standard radar techniques but preferred infra red "because it can't be jammed."

UPPER DARBY, Pa., Aug. 6.—(INS)—Something new in the form of a larceny charge was lodged today against Dominic R. Ehardt, 39, a process engineer of Upper Darby.

And they didn't break any windows.

Asks Right To Swap Apartment

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(INS)—Isidore Glauberman asked the aid of the courts today to guarantee a "fifth freedom"—the right to swap your apartment.

Glauberman, an attorney, says his three-room, $140-a-month Greenwich Village apartment became too cramped when Baby Naomi arrived last June.

He petitioned the New York supreme court for a declaratory judgment to compel the landlord to permit him to accept one of a half dozen apartment swapping offers he has received. The owners have until Aug. 22 to reply.

Apartment swapping, an outgrowth of the housing shortage, is permitted by some landlords but others prohibit it.

Officers Bargained With Railroads For Army Transportation

Rates Were Kept High By Men Who Expected Future Jobs,
Says Senator

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(INS)—Sen. Taylor (D-Idaho) charged today that army and navy officers who handled wartime railroad freight rates for the government have since "returned" to the carriers with promotions.

Taylor renewed his demand for an investigation by the Senate Mead committee into what he termed "excessive payments" made to the railroads during the war for carrying military freight.

The Association of American Railroads, replying to Taylor's demand for an investigation, stated flatly that "the railroads did not overcharge the government on wartime freight."

It also denied Taylor's accusation that the "rate committee" of the Army Transportation Corps was composed largely of railroad officials, whom Taylor charged "wore the uniform of the army and navy to negotiate rates with their former and future employers."

Taylor declared in a statement replying to the association that four of the five members of the War Department's standing rate committee were former railroad employees. He added:

"No officer or employee of the War Department could suggest a rate reduction to carriers without first clearing his proposal with three of the five members of that committee."

SOVIET MINISTER TRIES TO LIMIT SMALLER POWERS

that the conference be free to vote either two-thirds or majority recommendations and the Big Four then would place greater emphasis on those matters receiving the greater voting support.

Molotov directed his remarks at Byrnes declaring:

"Any nation which helped to confirm the council of foreign ministers' decisions should stand by those decisions."

Challenges Molotov
Byrnes in his speech challenged Molotov to have Soviet newspapers print the American statement. Byrnes said that "Molotov can be sure that his statements of yesterday were published in the United States I challenge him to publish his statements in the USSR."

Molotov accepted the challenge. He replied to Byrnes:

"Give me the text of your speech and we will publish every word of it."

Molotov added that he believed American newspapers were not objective. He said that "instead of publishing my speech they just attack me."

Molotov denied Byrnes' allegation that he sought to dictate selection of the chairman for the various treaty and economic committees of the conference.

Byrnes said Molotov had tried in vain to convene the foreign ministers' council to name the chairman. Molotov answered that he wished the council to meet only to exchange views during the course of the conference.

U. S. Suggests Council
To Byrnes' charge that the Soviet Union attempted to restrict "the right to make peace to the small states of nations possible" Molotov said the United States suggested the composition of the foreign ministers' council.

He added that Russia was not responsible for restriction of the number of countries at the conference. He said that no one had suggested inviting Guatemala, Costa Rica, Honduras, El Salvador, the Philippines or any of the other small powers that declared war on Italy.

Molotov declared that the Big Four were unanimous on procedural recommendations until the Americans and British were "led astray" by speeches at the conference.

Byrnes' speech was his sharpest attack on Molotov at any time during the conference.

A worker in the signal department of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Foster said he would return to work immediately.

CONTROL AGENTS SEIZE 29 STILLS

while in 1941, the peak year, 191 illegal liquor-producing machines were seized and 224 persons taken into custody, the spokesman explained.

During the war years, he added, vigorous law enforcement coupled with the difficulty in securing sugar, copper coils and critical materials helped reduce bootlegging.

Approximately 50 per cent of the stills seized last year were located in the heavily-populated Philadelphia area and were of an average capacity of 10 gallons a day, the spokesman reported.

Largest of the illegal machines uncovered last year was a 500-gallon still found in Lackawanna county while the smallest, with a five gallon capacity, was destroyed in Philadelphia.

"Very few stills are found in Pittsburgh and Allegheny county while up in the hard-coal regions they go in for the larger type stills," the spokesman said.

Get 'Em Quickly
He said that on the average the stills were not in operation very long because word of such activity spreads very rapidly.

"The moonshine is seized by enforcement agents and used as evidence against persons found operating the stills," the spokesman pointed out. "Later, it is destroyed."

A report showed that 85 persons were arrested in 1942 and 97 stills confiscated while the following year only 17 stills were found and 12 persons apprehended.

In 1944, the report added, 36 persons were caught operating 47 stills making contraband liquor.

Dardanelles Seen As Moot Question For Major Powers

Major Powers Jockey For Position In Middle East, Dardanelles Key Spot

SOVIET RUSSIA SHOWS INTEREST

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—(INS)—Diplomatic observers predicted Monday that Turkey and the vital Dardanelles soon will engage world attention as the major powers jockey for position in the Middle East.

Already symptoms along the propaganda front have appeared in Washington. During the past week the Armenian pro-Soviet groups have taken to distributing literature which subtly sets forth the case for joining the strategic Kars and Ardahan areas of Turkey with the Armenian Soviet Socialist Republic.

Turks Are Active
At the same time the Turks have been active in establishing the national identity of the Turkish state and the civil guarantees given its various components.

This flurry of activity comes after a long period during which Turkey and the Dardanelles dropped into the background of international news.

Several months ago the Soviet press indicated a claim to the Kars and Ardahan regions. These are on the Turkish Black Sea coast, adjoining the Armenian S. S. R. They could furnish important naval bases for the Russian fleet—or as a bargaining point were Moscow to seek concessions at the Dardanelles.

At one time they were part of the Armenian section of the Ottoman empire. Present statements from Armenian sources charge that Armenians in this area were massacred and otherwise made to suffer during World War I when Turkey teamed up with Germany and Russia was on the side of the Allies.

Diplomatic Maneuvering
Observers in Washington, however, were less inclined to believe that Moscow wants these provinces than that they were being claimed in diplomatic maneuvering designed to give Russia control of the Dardanelles. This is important to Moscow as a means of entering the Mediterranean with her present Black Sea fleet or any additions it may gain in the future.

According to responsible sources, Moscow has sought fortresses which would dominate the straits, placing her in a position to close them off whenever she wants. The United States has sought revision of the Montreux convention to place the straits under international control.

The Dardanelles, however, were regarded as only one phase of the entire Near Eastern situation.

The case of Iran vs the Soviet Union is still pending before the United Nations in New York.

Bud and Pat (Taylor) Brettell have been entertaining a friend of Bud's, Bill Walsh of Hartford, Conn. . . . The boys served on the same ship in the Pacific. . . . Bud is now a journalism major at Westminster college. . . . His friend is going to attend a school for radio technicians in Connecticut.

Maybe they love the great outdoors, but Don Shof and Leland Dennison have been seen starting out on many a picnic together. . . . They should call him "Figaro" like the versatile barber of Seville.

Back in New Castle after serving in Germany, Henry Carolina is planning to return to the Margaret Henry Home until he finishes his schooling. . . . The former corporal entered the army before he got his diploma and now he intends to make up the necessary work. . . .

And the biggest item of the week, of course, is the return of the red-headed vagabonds. . . . They were afraid to bring a bear back with them after all. . . . Red Richards was seen holding open house in front of the drug store the day after he got home, but Red Angelo was wandering around somewhere else. . . .

For the benefit of those who would like to have items in the column, we had better explain that, although the "Younger Slant" comes out on Tuesdays, all the material has to be in The News office by noon on Monday. . . . Otherwise we have to hold it over until the next week and by that time you've probably forgotten what you sent us. . . . If you drop it in the mail on Sunday, bring it to the office on Monday morning, or call us up, your item will be much more timely. . . .

Brooklyn Dodgers Defeat Boston Braves 7 TO 4

Only Game On Monday Program In Big Leagues

Reese And Walker Smack Homers And Chase Mort Cooper To Showers

TEAMS RESUMING SCHEDULES TODAY

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Things are looking up for the Brooklyn Dodgers today because they suddenly have acquired the one knockout punch which they have lacked all season—the ability to clout those game-winning home runs.

Up until this week, the books had compiled a total of only 30 home runs for the Dodgers, a record no long-distance hitters such as are possessed by the New York Giants, who have clouted more than 80 four-baggers this season.

In the past two days the picture has begun to change with the Dodgers going home-run crazy. Ducky Medwick started it on Sunday when he poled a round-tripper with two mates aboard, saving Brooklyn from defeat by Cincinnati.

Big Fifth Inning
Last night, the barrage was continued in Boston. It came at a most timely moment, because the Braves, going like wildfire these days with a five-game winning streak under their belts, had knocked Joe Hatten out of the box and seemed to be on their way to an upset victory.

Then came the fifth inning, and stars fell on Alabama and Mort Cooper, the Boston pitcher. Peeewe Reese knocked a homer with two men on base and then the old reliable Dixie Walker, leading batter of the league, walloped another one with one man on base.

This impressive five-run rally insured a comfortable win for the Dodgers, 7 to 4. Ralph Branca was the winning pitcher, before a sell-out crowd of 35,000 fans.

The Brooklyn-Boston contest was the only major league game scheduled yesterday. This afternoon and tonight all 16 teams will swing into action.

ENROUTE along a railroad to fish in the Allegheny river, five miles south of Franklin, Bud Fieger, his son-in-law, Charles Freeman and "Red" Mitchell recently stepped over a Copperhead, which awakened suddenly, struck a fisherman traveling in their rear. The reptile's fangs struck the lower portion of a trouser leg and hit a leather shoe. This proves that one should wear leather or rubber boots when fishing in sections where either Copperheads or Rattlers are known to inhabit. The Copperhead is allied to the Rattlesnake but is without rattlers and is found in the eastern United States. It is coppery brown with dark transverse, somewhat hour-glassed markings. It is voracious and inhabits damp places and is more quicker than the Rattlesnake. The Rattler has a series of horny interlocking joints at the end of the tail which makes a sharp sound when shaken. There are various kinds. They are said to be sluggish and not inclined to bite except when disturbed or in pursuit of prey—but no one will take a chance with any. The timber Rattlesnake is native to northeastern U. S.

Russell Baxter is an eight to five favorite to beat Mike Berakovich in Youngstown, August 12. Casey Stengel, cousin to the famous Casey Stengel, has been given permission to occupy the wigwag at the Indians' ball park. Bill Veeck, president, gave Casey permission because he couldn't find a home in which to live. Pete Reiser, Dodgers, was injured when he attempted to ensnare a fly ball while playing against the Cardinals in New York. Charlie Augustine, yet in maritime service, is visiting his home town. He's stationed at St. Petersburg, Fla. Charlie served with Pershing in the chase for Villa, was overseas in both world wars, returned and entered maritime service.

Williams Medalist In Canco League

Fred "Hotshot" Williams Turns In 40 On Tough Back Nine Monday Night

Paced by the veteran golfer, Fred "Hotshot" Williams, who had a sizzling hot 40 card, three over par, on the tough Castle Hills back nine last night, the Hawks remained in first place in the American Can company golf league with 22 points, while the rampaging Owls, captained by "Windy Bill" Ellis remained in second place with 20 points.

There were three feature matches on the card last night—Fred "Hotshot" Williams defeating "Fireman" Jack Murphy, 3 and 1; Al "Shooter" Ellis defeating "Cano Kid" Jimmy Guido and "Ace" Rowe, the No. 1 man on the Owls, taking over Leroy Todd, 4 and 1.

The Hawks paced by Williams and "Byron" McConnell defeated the Robins, the first-half champions, 6 to 5. Low cards last night, all on the tough back nine, were: Al Ellis 42 and Rowe 43 besides that 40 that Williams put together. The standing of the league: Hawks 22 points, Owls 20, Robins 16 1/2, Sparrows 7 1/2.

Crop Insurance Again Available In Lawrence County

Farmers Must Make Application
Before Crop Is Seeded, Expiration Date Next Month

The Federal Crop Insurance corporation is beginning its eighth year of active operation with the sale of insurance for the 1947 winter wheat crop. County agricultural conservation committees authorized by the corporation are accepting applications now in Lawrence county. Dorris L. Fulkman, chairman of the Lawrence county agricultural conservation committee, announced today. All applications must be filed before the crop is seeded. The closing date for Pennsylvania is Sept. 14. With federal crop insurance, farmers can protect their investment in wheat against loss from unavoidable causes—drought, flood, winter-kill, hail, insects and other natural hazards that might damage their crops. Insurance covers the production of a specified number of bushels selected by the farmer from the several choices in the amounts of insurance protection available for his farm. The cost of the premium depends upon the level of coverage he selects. But premiums are set to bear only the weight of actual crop losses. The government pays all administrative costs of the program. The farmer may pay his premium in cash or by note which is due about harvest time. A loss will be payable when the farmer's wheat production drops below the number of bushels specified in his contract.

The federal crop insurance program is designed to help complete the protection of the financial security of agriculture. Protection of farm land and farm prices means nothing to the farmer who has lost his crop through drought, excessive moisture or some other unavoidable production hazard. Crop insurance protects the farmer's investment from planting time until harvest, and enables him to be sure of having a crop to market. From the beginning of the wheat insurance program in 1939 through the 1943 season the corporation paid out the equivalent of about 283,540 bushels of wheat to cover the losses of Pennsylvania insured farmers. Without insurance, farmers' incomes would have absorbed that loss unaided. Other crops insurable under the federal program are cotton and flax, with trial insurance on corn and tobacco in Chester and Lancaster counties, respectively.

GOT TIRED OF PICNIC
HAARISBURG, Aug. 6.—(INS)—There was little wanderlust today in the sturdy spirit of seven-year-old Henry Buffington, of Langestown, R. D.

He wandered away from a Sunday picnic and was beyond the ken of state policemen and his frantic parents for nine hours. He was found at home when the search was abandoned. Henry explained he had hitchhiked home when he became tired of the picnic.

May Inaugurate 'Flying Taxis' In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 6.—(INS)—Allegheny County commissioners took under serious consideration a proposal for flying taxi service between downtown Pittsburgh airport.

The proponents of the plan said they could replace the present taxi service with a seaplane shuttle between the downtown district and the airport.

The planners said they could take off in small Hydroplanes from Allegheny and Monongahela river wharfs and land at the new airfield if a small lake was made available.

Commission Chairman John J. Kane said he felt that a lake could be built by damming one of the nearby ravines with some of the dirt being removed for the new runways.

SUFFERS FATAL GORING
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 6.—(INS)—Harry F. Kline, 54-year-old Crownsville, Md. farmer, died in Emergency Hospital early today from injuries sustained when he was gored by a bull yesterday afternoon.

Kline's wife said the bull attacked her husband when he entered its stall in the barn to place a ring in the animal's nose.

Admits Killing Of Two Nurses

TOKYO, Aug. 6.—(INS)—Japanese police said Monday that a 26-year-old Ainu had confessed to the "merciful killing" of two nurses who were starving and homeless after they had been dismissed from a hospital where the suspect was employed as a janitor.

The suspect, an Ainu, is a member of one of the aboriginal Japanese tribes whose culture recalls the savage races.

Police uncovered the bodies of the two nurses in an old air raid shelter after relatives had been told by a fortune teller that the missing women were dead.

Garbage Men's Lot, Hard Task

There are two periods of the year when collectors of garbage perspire from decidedly hard work.

One is when the streets are covered with snow and ice and garbage is frozen.

The other is now when the cans are filled with corn cobs and the skins of fruit.

"Garbage is heavy at present," said Superintendent H. M. Phillips today.
